FED HIKES BY 25 BPS AT MARCH MEETING

The Federal Reserve hiked rates by 25 basis points to 5% at its March meeting. The newest rate predictions on the FOMC Dot Plot also raised projected rates at the end of 2024 to 4.25% from 4.125% in December 2022.

CORE INFLATION MODERATES DECLINE

The Consumer Price Index ex-Food & Energy ticked down to 5.5% year-over-year for February, compared to 5.6% for January. These meager declines in core inflation despite a faster decline in top-line inflation continue to put fiscal and monetary policymakers in a tough position.

CRISIS IN BANKING CONTAINED BY FED INTERVENTION

Losses in long duration assets caused by aggressive rate hikes in 2022 led to bank runs at several mid-sized banks. The panic only subsided once the Federal Reserve opened easier access to its discount window and announced the creation of a new backstop facility to guarantee such assets.

UBS ACQUIRES CREDIT SUISSE IN HISTORIC DEAL

After issues in the US banking system spread to Europe, the stock and bonds of Credit Suisse collapsed as fears over its asset exposures grew. On March 19th it was announced that UBS would acquire Credit Suisse for $2b in a government-guaranteed deal designed to protect the systemically important bank.

INVESTORS FLEE TO TECH STALWARTS AMONGST PULLBACK

While the regional banking crisis caused a nearly -10% pullback in financials, the Nasdaq 100 closed the month up 9.4% as investors anticipated that financial sector distress and moderating inflation would cause an imminent pivot by the Fed.
